PRESENTING OUR LATEST ACCOMPLISHMENT:

The New Tap Room

Steel & Douglas Fir Bar

Custom Shelving

Salvaged Redwood Table

Reclaimed Douglas Fir Wall

The Location: Whole Foods Market – Portrero Hill, San Francisco, CA

The Project: Transform a coffee bar into an industrial yet modern tap room with an emphasis on using recycled materials

The Challenge: Completing the entire project in just 10 weeks; integrating all different construction materials seamlessly

How'd we do? Mission accomplished! Our crews worked day and night (literally) to make it happen and the results speak for themselves (see photos).

Here's what we did:

- Salvaged redwood for bar and tables
- Stainless steel service counters
- Reclaimed Douglas fir siding for wall and bar accents, butcher block counter
- Shelving for beer glasses made from reclaimed Douglas fir and steel gas piping
- Cold-rolled steel bar

Of special note: The redwood tables and butcher block counter were built and finished (flawlessly!) by our in-house cabinet shop, Five Star Fixtures.
